

VISO software is a Windows application for configuration and management of RACS 5 access control and building automation system. The program is offered in standard version (VISO ST) and extended version (VISO EX). Additionally mobile version (VISO Mobile) and web browser version (VISO Web) are offered. Both VISO Mobile and VISO Web are dedicated to daily management of the system especially in regard of user management and system monitoring and contrary to VISO ST and VISO EX they cannot be used for system configuration. RACS 5 software is modular and it includes such programs as license server, communication server and integration server which is used for communication with third party software. VISO application is not necessary for current operation of the system and can be started only when needed. VISO can be operated on multiple displays and it enables configuration of tiles for frequent tasks.
